Special Issue on PLAT Conference Salzburg 2017

The PLAT conference in Salzburg will be documented by a special issue in the PLAT journal (https://uk.sagepub.com/en-gb/eur/journal/psychology-learning-teaching) .

Submissions

All papers and posters presented at the PLAT conference in Salzburg 2017 may be submitted to PLAT and will be considered as contributions to a special issue. All submissions will undergo the usual peer-review process. PLAT publishes research articles, reviews, reports and target articles (please consult PLAT website for detailed information https://uk.sagepub.com/en-gb/eur/journal/psychology-learning-teaching#submission-guidelines). Please make sure to choose the right format for your paper and closely follow the guidelines for your chosen manuscript format.

Time line

Submissions via PLAT website are welcome as of September 20th 2017 until January 12th 2018. Authors will receive feedback from two peer-reviewers and the editor before April 2018. A second round of reviews, if necessary, will be finalized and the final decisions made until October 2018. The special issue is planned to be the March issue of PLAT 2019.

The Editors of the Special Issue

Jörg Zumbach and Birgit Spinath